

Our Ocean Poem

In the deep, salty sea,
We can see; giant, ferocious creatures,
Under the deep, salty sea,
A Great White shark features.

In the deep, salty sea,
The shark flashes in and out of the dusty gloom,
Under the deep, salty sea,
The baby fish scattered to escape doom.

In the deep, salty sea,
The dolphin jumps – splash, splash,
Under the deep, salty sea,
He swims as quick as a flash.

In the deep, salty sea,
The turtle flutters to the Ocean floor,
Under the deep, salty sea,
The turtle just wants to eat more, more and more.

In the deep, salty sea,
The Lion-Mane jellyfish wobbles all-day,
Under the deep, salty sea,
He likes to play with the stingray.

The Ocean is; sparkly, beautiful and pretty awesome,
It has many creatures for us to see,
It's time to end our poem,
All that's left is, for the seaweed to wave goodbye!
